

WATERWELL NATUROPATHY · SESSION NOTES

Where things stand, and where we go next.

Prepared for Kohei Iguchi · 20 July 2026

TODAY

Four things to get through.

01

The website

What you asked for, what's shipped, what's still open

02

Australia — the compliance picture

Why the rules exist, and exactly where the AU campaigns stand

03

A new way of working

Moving from a flat monthly retainer to pay-per-lead

04

Next steps

What happens this week, and what happens after

Your notes, built.

Every line from your website update notes went into the rebuild. Here's what's live.

- ✓ Rotating hero, patient-first
Keeps every banner except the testimonial one, permanent "15 min · no cost · no commitment" CTA
- ✓ Online-first framing
Comfort of home, worldwide reach, no traffic, no travel — front and centre
- ✓ "About me" band + your specialities
Qualifications, 10+ years, the eczema story — six condition pages, each with its own link
- ✓ "How it works" — simplified
Swapped the scroll-heavy version for a clean visual flow, exactly as you asked
- ✓ "My Eczema Story" + The Stepping Stones
Founder framing, 75-minute consult length corrected throughout
- ✓ Brand fonts locked in
Instrument Serif + Manrope across every page
- ✓ Blog index
All 20 existing posts pulled in and linked from the footer

Three things left to close out.

Your Cliniko booking link

You sent it through 16 July — going in this week so patients can book directly instead of emailing first

Condition-specific FAQs

Your questions are ready to publish for Eczema, TSW, Acne, Psoriasis and Rosacea — need the answers back from you to put them live

Chatbot, Instagram link, standalone About/Services pages

Your call on all three — happy to build any of them once you've decided

THIS WEEK

Cliniko wired in, FAQs live once your answers land.

Four regimes. One safe way to advertise.

Naturopathy has no single AU regulator — which is exactly why it pays to be careful. Here's what actually governs an ad reaching an Australian patient.

Where the AU campaign actually stands.

Ad copy	COMPLIANT	Every headline and description checked line by line
Keyword build	READY	441 terms across 24 ad groups, NZ + AU split
AU landing page	IN PROGRESS	Fix is scoped, redeploying this week
Conversion tracking	IN PROGRESS	Wiring to the new Cliniko flow

WHY AU SPEND STAYS PAUSED UNTIL BOTH ARE GREEN

The landing page is legally part of the ad — Google and the TGA both treat it that way. Once the page and tracking are both compliant and verified, AU campaigns switch on the same day. No reason to rush a policy pause.

From a flat fee, to paying for what lands.

TODAY — RETAINER

$700 / month

Fixed, whether the month brings 4 enquiries or 12. You carry the variance.

PROPOSED — PAY-PER-LEAD

$ per genuine enquiry

You pay for what shows up. Slow month costs less. Strong month, we both want more of them.

This is genuinely a calmer way to run it on both sides — no guessing whether a quiet month was worth the retainer, no pressure to justify a number that doesn't move with results. You only pay when a real person reaches out.

Setting a fair price — together, today.

The per-lead price comes from what a genuine enquiry is actually worth to you. Two numbers, both yours to confirm.

$$\boxed{\text{Initial consult price}} \times \boxed{\text{Enquiry} \rightarrow \text{booking rate}} = \boxed{\text{What a lead is worth to you}}$$

CONFIRM TODAY

What's the initial consult priced at?

CONFIRM TODAY

Roughly what share of enquiries book in?

Once we have both, the per-lead price sits between what it costs us to generate the lead and what it's worth to you — fair split, no guesswork either side.

What happens from here.
